Protective Orders and Confidential Filings

1. Unless protected by the Commission, all documents filed in Commission dockets are available to the public.
2. Parties may move to protect information.
3. If the Commission issues a protective order:
 - A. Protected documents cannot be viewed by the public; and
 - B. Protected document may be viewed by party representatives who have signed and filed a non-disclosure agreement.

Protective Orders and Confidential Filings

4. Parties may request protection for a term of years, to avoid filing repeated motions to protect the same information.
 - In response, the Commission may issue a Term Protective Order.
5. Parties may request special terms (e.g., terms that prevent market competitors from viewing information).
 - In response, the Commission may issue a Protective Order with special terms.

Protective Orders and Confidential Filings
